

Queensland Government New community and legal centre

The HUB Neighbourhood Centre is a community-based organisation, focused on building a strong, connected community for people in Inala and surrounding suburbs. The Hub encourages community participation and inclusion through activities offered at the Centre and by linking community members to resources and support.

Project scope

This project was delivered by Wiley under a construction model and fast-tracked for completion within 29 weeks.

Wiley worked collaboratively with the Queensland Government and key stakeholders of the Hub community, which was an important factor for the success of the project, ensuring the facility was highly functional for the end users.

A strong level of engagement was adopted as the project transitioned from the design phase into construction.

Business value to client

This new, modern facility provides a warm, welcoming space where, together, locals can build a stronger, more connected community.

The facility provides more functionality than its predecessor, further supporting The Hub operations to serve a wider range of purposes and adapt to changing community needs.

To minimise noise disturbance to the surrounding residents, and consider the broader community's well-being, acoustic protection was a key feature of the architecturally designed facility.

The Hub welcomes people from all walks of life and is an asset to the growing region. The project achieved the Hub's key objective ... to make a difference and to ensure a better quality of life for everyone in their reach.
